WHAT IS DOING AT RAMSEY

LEASES BEING LET—TOWNSITE BECOMING—MEN GOING IN—STAGE LINE ESTABLISHED—HOW CARSON CITY IS GETTING ON ON IT.

Things are booming at Ramsey. A. H. Mayne, the man that bought the Clark bonanza is making ready to take down the huge dyke that drops on the Lucky Boy, the discovery that started the excitement at that place.

Other mine owners are doing the same thing, and Ramsey will soon join the ranks of big shippers.

The townsite has been taken up and the townsites owners are refusing to sell lots at almost any price, though leases are being let to all applicants.

The mines are being leased by the owners, particularly those that are on the Clark extensions. Reynolds, owner of the Rattler No. 2, the first extension of the Clark ledge, refused $3000 for a six months lease of 150 feet of ground on that ledge.

The town lots are being let out on lease with bond for deeds in a year at $2000 each and the leases are being made for this class of property as fast as possible.

Since claim owners have had a chance to survey their holdings and to prospect them a bit, they are figuring on shipping ore from the grass roots, or more properly speaking, sage brush roots, as there is little grass at Ramsey.

The well being put down by the townsites people has been pushed to water and a good flow has been encountered. This will be a great convenience to the camp as water now is hauled from the Carson river and from springs that are situated from two to three miles from the townsites.

A stage line is in operation from Churchill so that mail and passenger traffic is comparatively easy with the camp now.

An auto line is in operation between this city and the new district and freight is being unloaded at Pawnee, the side track at the Towle ranch. Much of the freight is going through Churchill. To this latter place is now coming much traffic, mail, express and freight.

Reynolds, the manager of the townsites and owner of the extension on the big strike went to Reno from this city this morning, en route to Goldfield to complete arrangements and to get the coin with which to open a bank next week. The bank will do the business of the townsites company and of the Robinson mines, as well as a general banking business.

There are now over seventy tents and half a dozen frame buildings at the new place and more are being arranged for as fast as possible. More lumber and building material is being hauled in and general arrangements are being made for the rapid growth of the new camp.

Virginia City men are taking a lively interest in the place and while Goldfield and Salt Lake people are taking the mines, Virginia City and Carson City men are taking up the business of the camp in the way of supplies. It is possible to get a good meal for four bits, but sleeping rooms or tents are at a premium. With two hundred men in the camp, the beginning of operations on the shipping ore and the general business of the new camp, more men are wanted and several hundred are on their way to the new town.

All are tributary to this city, the nearest base of wholesale supply and Carson City is reaping a substantial benefit from the excitement.

BIG NEW ENTERPRISE WILL BE STARTED HERE SOON

FIRM WILL BOOM THE MINES AND ORE DEPOSITS IN THIS TERRITORY.

The general revival of mining business in and near Carson City has brought one good thing to this city, and that is the general agency for brokers and mining investors to be opened here as soon as it is possible to make the arrangements.

Nichols, of Goldfield, and associates will open an office and it is stated that they have been working for some weeks bonding and taking options on properties south and elsewhere. The plans of the new firm have not yet been made public, other than a general way.

The best thing about the new enterprise is that it will boost the country adjacent and tributary to Carson City and will endeavor to make known the mineral resources of this district in a way that will secure investment of capital in development work.

There are many mines in this territory that contain high grade gold ore which would be classed as milling ore in the southern camps, and it is understood that the company has succeeded already in showing some of them to prospective purchasers.

The good this project will do the Pinenut, Jumbo, Washoe and other districts cannot be estimated, and the advent of the new company is a distinct gain to the community.

The men back of it will come here to live, as other mining men have decided to do, and it is nothing else, Carson City will receive the benefit of some new families. As a home place this city leaves nothing to be desired, an attribute appreciated by the men who spend most of their time on the hot, wind swept deserts of the south.

7000 WORKMEN WANTED

The Western Pacific officials, together with the contractors building the new Gould line, are endeavoring to secure 7000 more laborers in addition to the force of 10,000 men now at work in Utah, Nevada, and California. Under constant urging from George J. Gould in New York to rush construction work as rapidly as possible this summer and fall, agents have been sent into the Middle West and Northwest states to try and secure these men.

The contractors of the Nevada section of the new San Francisco and Salt Lake line are especially in need of an increased force.

Work on the 4,000 foot tunnel in the Niles canyon back of Oakland is being rushed night and day with the latest modern machinery. And the same is true of the three 7000-foot tunnels being bored on the western slope of the Sierra Nevada mountains in Plumas county immediately west from the Beckwith pass. The minute the Niles tunnel is completed Stockton and Oakland will have rail connections, for part of the line is already built and grading to other points is finished.

NEW STRIKE ON RATTLER NO 2

STRINGER OF HIGH GRADE ORE FOUND—LEASES BEING LET ON IT—ANOTHER STRIKE REPORTED FROM A PARALLEL LEDGE.

A strike has been made on the Rattler No. 2 at Ramsey. It is reported that the new find is richer than any preceding it in the camp and that while the ledge is not a large one, it can be traced for several hundred feet.

The vein is free gold bearing, assays $175 a ton and is about 14 inches wide on the surface.

Leases are being let on it at the ratio of 10 per cent for $10 rock, 15 per cent for $25 rock and 25 percent for $50 or over in value.

Another rich ledge that parallels the Clark and Rattler ledges has been opened up and leases are being taken on it.

The snow is so deep in the high mountains that the Blue Lake road may not be opened this summer.

"BOOST"

Every citizen of Carson City should be an ADVANCE AGENT of his town. Tell the people you meet what we have, what we need and what we are capable of doing. Don't knock—just boost. If you own only a vacant lot in Carson City you are deeply interested—just as deeply as the man or corporation owning thousands in houses or realty. The newspapers cannot do it all, so pass the word along. Boost all the time. Every good word helps.

Carson City being in a progressive stage now is the time for all interests to get together.

Boost today
Boost tomorrow.
Boost next week.
Boost next month.
Boost next year.
And Carson City will be on the map to stay in large letters.

Virginia City was the scene of a severe cloudburst this afternoon. Torrents of water swept down C street and blocking many of the streets and alleys with debris.

WHAT FAIRVIEW IS DOING THESE HOT DAYS

"Fairview, Nev., has about 1200 people," said Ben. D. Luce, who is in Salt Lake again from that camp, and the mines are all being developed as rapidly as possible under the conditions of newness which prevail.

"The Nevada Hills property is taking out more ore than can be transported, owing to the limited facilities and there is being stored a shipment of the richest for a banner shipment one of these days.

My associates and myself have secured a group of sixteen claims four and one half miles northwest of the town, on the side of one of the richest mineralized mountains I ever saw. Surface showings in a dozen different places yield $10 to $200 per ton. It is our intention to prepare for active work in the early fall—just as soon as the weather becomes cooler and we can secure the supplies and the desired camp equipment.

"Although the announcement was made in the beginning of the Fairview boom that it was a very small district, such is not actually the case, for the prospectors have been enabled to create small camps nearby, because there seemed to be intervening ground without surface showings enough to warrant prospecting.

"That is one of the causes that the wonder camp exists. It has about 300 people and all the lots on the main street have been sold, bringing $200 to $300 each.

"Esquiate, another town that is promising, is about twenty miles east of Fairview. What is known as the Senator Williams property here has shown up well, and they are sacking the ore for shipment.

"To the west of Fairview, twelve miles is Sand Springs camp, where considerable work is being done with assuring outlook for success. One outfit there—the Sand Springs Mining company—is working two shifts.

"Altogether therefore, it will be seen that the entire region of which Fairview is the center is attracting people and capital, and that its showing is exceedingly gratifying to those who are optimistic regarding its future.

RUSSEL SAGE IS DEAD

NEW YORK, July 24.—Russel Sage, noted Wall street operator and over a hundred times a millionaire is dead at his home at Lawrence L. I. The cause of his death is reported to be heart failure by the attending physicians. For two hours before the end came, the aged financier was unconscious and his death was so gradual that only after the doctors made the announcement did the people at the bedside know that he had passed away.

The estate of Russel Sage is variously estimated at upward of $100,000,000. This fortune is the result of years of toil and frugality, practiced with a persistency that made this landmark in the world of finance noted throughout the world. The maxims which Sage frequently offered as the rules by which he became a multi-millionaire are known to every reader of English and the stories of the close-fisted operations of this man have been reported for the last score of years.

The Herald says preparations for contesting the will of Russel Sage in the event of its provisions not being satisfactory to them, already have been made by the relatives of the financier. Nephews and grandnephews and others more remote are said to be considering steps for legal proceedings.
